

Exam Date: May 29, 2014

Format: Scan-tron and Essay

Know the characteristics, major writers, and sample pieces from these literary periods in order.

Gothic (popular during Romantic period, but not limited to this time period)

Modern (Imagism, Surrealism, Stream-of-consciousness)

For this part of the test, be able to identify pieces according to period, explain major features, and explain how each was a reaction to the previous literary period.

Specific Literature

Author, Time Period, Characters, Plot, Setting, Applied Concepts, Motifs

“The Metamorphosis”

“My Last Duchess”

“The Lady of Shalott”

Rebecca

Psychoanalytical Terms

Archetypes

Electra complex

Manifestation

Narcissism

Oedipus complex

Post-Mirror Phase

Projection

Repression

Transference (displacement)

Feminist Terms

Castration

Lack

Oppression

Other

Patriarchy

Voice

Marxist Terms

Alienation

Dehumanization

Exploitation

Marginalization

Oppression

Literary Terms

Alliteration

Allusion

Audience

Characterization (direct & indirect)

Conflict

Diction (connotation)

Dramatic monologue

Keep going! ☺

Epiphany (and post-mirror phase)
Foreshadowing
Frock Consciousness
Hubris
Imagery
Imagism
Irony (in general, plus dramatic, situational, and verbal)
Metaphor
Mood
Motif (not the same as theme!)
Pathetic fallacy
Rhyme
Setting
Simile
Speaker
Stream-of-consciousness
Symbols/ Symbolism
Syntax (telegraphic, declarative, interrogative, anaphora, parallel)
Theme (not the same as motif!)
Tone (diction, syntax, details, imagery, language, shift)

Essay Topics

Marxist Concepts (class conflict, alienation, exploitation, dehumanization, oppression)
Family dynamics
Psychoanalytical Concepts (See above list)

These will be open questions in which you apply these ideas to at least 2 major works we've studied. One work MUST be from second semester, but the other may be from your summer assignment or first semester. Just be sure you can be specific enough about works you read in 2015.

Review what I expect from a good essay and be prepared to provide it for me. Look back at former tests.